

Call for Papers

eucrim is a well-established online journal (with print copies of issues available) that serves as European-wide forum for all related aspects to the EU's Area of Freedom, Security and Justice. The protection of the EU's financial interests is considered a pilot for the journal since this area has strongly contributed to the European integration in the field of „crimistrative“ justice over the last decades. By its article section, eucrim encourages the discussion among both legal practitioners and academics. The article section includes scientific and policy analyses headed under a focal topic. Please find below an overview of the focal topics of the upcoming issues and the submission deadlines for articles. Please note that the detailed list of possible items that could be addressed in articles is only indicative and by no means exhaustive. Any other suggestions from authors are welcome.

Author guidelines can be found at: <https://eucrim.eu/service/submissions-and-author-guidelines/>

For any queries and submission of articles, please contact: info@eucrim.eu
